Dear Dr Henry,

The Cuban Division of the International Academy of Pathology is organizing the Second Congress of our Society, to take place between 23th and 26th of March 2011, at the ¨Hermanos Ameijeiras¨Hospital, in Havana, Cuba.

Important topics related to breast cancer, malignant lymphomas, gynaecologic pathology and cervical cancer, head and neck tumours, soft tissue tumours, fine needle aspiration cytopathology, post graduate education and many others subjects will be discussed.

The main purpose of the Congress is to actualize and discuss with more than 300 Cuban pathologists important aspects of those themes, presented by relevant personalities from Latin America, North America and Spain.

The Congress is being organized by the Council of Scientific Societies on Health, the Cuban Division of IAP and the Cuban Society of Pathology, with the participation of more than 10 Sponsors from different areas.

In this context we ask the Educational Committee of the IAP, to analyze the possibility of providing support for this event to a value of USD 5,000, in order to cover costs of conference rooms hiring, audio visual equipment support, hotel accommodation for selected speakers and edition of program and event proceedings. All expenditures will be justified by the corresponding invoices.

We are working hard to secure conditions to make this event a truly International Scientific and Academic meeting, and favour a fruitful interchange of ideas and experiences between eminent groups of scientists from abroad, and our pathologists.

We are including by e-mail the preliminary information of the meeting and a list of the scientific and academic events organized by the Cuban Division of the IAP and the SCAP during the year 2009 in Cuba

Cordially yours
